CANADIAN NEWS.

Sabbath Observance Strongly Enjoined
—Neil, the London Murderer, Known in London, Ont.

Charge of Political Jobbery in Manitoba—Heavy Rains in Quebec Province.

MONTREAL, June 28.—Archbishop Fabre has issued a pastoral letter strongly enjoining a strict observance of the Sabbath by the Roman Catholic people and forbidding the faithful to attend all places of amusement on Sunday. There is a good deal of indignation expressed against the circular.

J. B. Canella, a wealthy French Canadian grocer, committed suicide yesterday by jumping in the river.

The first steamer of the proposed new Montreal West India line arrived in port yesterday afternoon. She is the steamship American, Capt. F. W. Housley, and comes from Jamaica with 9,304 bunches of bananas and other tropical fruits, consigned to Messrs. J. S. & G. Vipond. The cargo was in very good condition.

Toronto, June 28.—Thomas Kelly, who was convicted of burglary here, 17 years ago, escaped from the officers while being taken to the Penitentiary, and went to Cleveland, Ohio, where he has lived an upright life ever since, and prospered. On Sunday he returned quietly, on a visit to his parents, but the detectives were notified of his presence and he was arrested. There is much sympathy for him, and a pardon will be petitioned for.

David Boggs, of Boggs Bros., coal and wood merchants, was torn to pieces through being caught in the fly-wheel of the firm's engine.

The City Mutual Fire Insurance Co., a young concern, is to be liquidated. The University fire, through which it lost $10,000, proved too much for it.

Alex. S. Proutt, of Milton, a pupil at the Upper Canada College, died last night from a clot of blood on the brain, the result of a fall thrust received on Saturday while fencing with his cousin, another pupil.

The petition against Miller (Conservative) as Member of Parliament for Prince Edward, has been withdrawn.

LONDON, June 28.—It has been discovered that Thomas Neill, now on trial in London, England, on a charge of poisoning Matilda Clouey, is Dr. Thomas Neill Cream, who left this city under a cloud, some years ago. Shortly after Cream's arrival here a woman was found dead in a water closet from malpractice. The evidence pointed so directly to Cream that he was arrested and put on his trial for murder. The testimony was not sufficient to convict, however, and Cream was acquitted and left the city.

HALIFAX, June 28.—Henry Tupper and Mrs. McLellan, widow of the late Hon. William McLellan, Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, were quietly married at Truro and left on a trip to New York.

MONTREAL, N. B., June 28.—The C. P. R. is making special efforts to divert to the Canadian Northwest the stream of emigration which so long flowed from the Maritime Provinces to the United States, and are giving transportation to Maritime farmers to go out to see the prairies for themselves. The first of these parties to go from the eastern provinces left to-day. It is stated from an authentic source that the statement that investigation had revealed that $400,000 is owed by Maritime Province merchants as unpaid Intercolonial freight bills is untrue.

HAMILTON, June 28.—The city council has passed a by-law enacting that drunks shall be liberated on the first and second offense if they have not been disorderly.

ST. THOMAS, June 28.—Mrs. T. Bartlett, aged 65, living near Port Stanley, has committed suicide by taking strychnine.

PENETANGUISHENE, June 28.—Sir Oliver Mowat and party have arrived here, to spend the hot season.

BRANTFORD, June 28.—Mr. Costello, resident of Brantford for forty years, is dead.

ST. JOHN'S, Que., June 28.—The volunteers will arrive here, at 3 o'clock, by special train. About 800 of them are expected. Tents are all up on a well-drained piece of ground, and present a pretty sight.

QUEBEC, June 28.—Rain poured down in torrents here throughout the whole of last night, and the country is literally flooded. So much rain has fallen of late, that great injury to the crops may be expected.

CAPITAL NOTES.

British Columbia Railways Taken Care of in the Ministerial Proposals.

Senator McInnes' Amendment to the Burrard Inlet Bridge Bill Adopted.

(From our own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, June 28.—The railway resolutions came down to-night. British Columbia fares well. The following are the proposed appropriations: $3,200 per mile to the Nicola Valley railway; for 25 miles from Spence's bridge, on the Canadian Pacific, to Nicola lake; for the railway from Revelstoke to the head of Arrow lake, 25 miles.

The Supreme Court to-day dismissed with costs the British Columbia appeal of Cameron vs. Harper.

To the surprise of everybody, Senator McInnes to-day secured the re-insertion in the Burrard Inlet Bridge Bill his amendment that the bridge be either 150 feet high or have a span of 150 feet wide. Twenty-six voted with Mr. McInnes, 13 (including Premier Abbott) being against it.

General Laurier, ex member of the House of Commons is contesting a Welsh seat.

The Agricultural committee want Parliament to subsidize the Horse Breeders Association.

Pontiac has been redeemed, Bryson (Conservative) being elected by 96 majority.

The criminal code and redistribution bills finally passed the House of Commons this afternoon. Several amendments were proposed but voted down. In the evening session, Sir Richard Cartwright made a bitter speech relative to the Caron charges, repeating the old story of corruption. Sir John Thompson made a brilliant reply, acknowledging to be the best he ever delivered in Parliament.

The total amount of subsidies to new railways is $1,500,000.

COMMERCIAL CONGRESS.

Canadian Delegates Strongly Oppose Mr. Medley's Free Trade Resolution.

LONDON, June 28.—The chief interest in the debate in to-day's session of the Imperial Chamber of Commerce Congress, centered in Mr. Medley's free trade resolution. Hon. C. H. Tupper moved as an amendment to Mr. Medley's resolution, the resolution adopted by the Montreal Chamber of Commerce, declaring that free trade would paralyze the trade of the Dominion and place it at the mercy of the United States. Sir Donald A. Smith seconded the amendment, and Mr. Wood, of Hamilton, was the only Canadian delegate who opposed it. The debate was adjourned before a vote was reached.

DIPLOMATIC ENTERPRISE.

More About Captain Borup, of the United States Legation at Paris.

Alleged Trafficking in Official Plans and Confidential Signals—His Record.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Secretary Elkins and in fact all the War department officials speak in the highest terms of Captain Borup and express confidence in his ability to prove his innocence. His recall, they say, was a natural sequence to the unfortunate affair, for even though he may satisfy the French authorities that he has been wrongfully accused, his usefulness as an attaché will necessarily be impaired. His recall would therefore have followed, regardless of any demand for it by the French authorities. The fact that Captain Borup is allowed only $50 per month for office expenses, out of which he is authorized to purchase periodicals, maps, drawings, etc., must be accepted as pretty conclusive evidence that he has not gone into the business of purchasing stolen plans on a very large scale. That he should sell stolen plans to other countries would seem to be equally absurd, when it is known that he is a very rich man. Captain Borup is a son of a rich Indian trader at St. Paul, Mich. His wife is quite rich. The war department does not believe Captain Borup to be guilty and he will be given an opportunity on his arrival to exonerate himself. He will not, however, even if he clears himself, be sent back to France.

PARIS, June 28.—Jefferson Coolidge, American Minister, informed Minister of Foreign Affairs Ribot, yesterday, that Captain Borup admitted having paid for secret official documents, but declared that in so doing he had only followed the example of all military attaches. Mr. Ribot replied that Borup deserved censure for trying to corrupt an official in order to possess a State secret, an offense rendering him liable to prosecution if he were not in the diplomatic service. Mr. Coolidge expressed deep regret at the occurrence. The American legation at once cabled Washington city asking the authorities to recall Captain Borup.

To-day Mr. Coolidge informed the French Minister of Foreign Affairs of the recall of Borup, accused of being an intermediary in revealing to Germany and Italy the plans of French defenses. Mr. Ribot thereupon wrote to M. Naquet, who proposed to raise the question in the Chambers, that all had been settled in such a manner as to leave no excuse for an interpretation. A note inspired by the Foreign Office appears in the newspapers approving the prompt action in the matter, both of Minister Coolidge and President Harrison.

FRENCH EXPOSITION.

Why the Republic Has Undertaken It—A Proof that She Wishes Peace.

PARIS, June 27.—In connection with the article recently published in the Figaro, proposing that Paris should have a universal exposition in 1900, it should be remembered that the article is plainly inspired by the French Government, and lays special stress on the need for France to prove that she wishes for peace. The following is the chief passage, reflecting the ideas of the present ministry: "In giving to the powers a rendezvous at Paris in 1900, does not France prove her desire to live at peace with all the world? Could any one accuse her of being a mischief maker? Will not this fete give proof of the palpable object that animates her? Is it not manifest that an exposition of this kind would have a healthy influence on all kinds of business, and, if so, are there any reasons why such an impetus should not be given to commercial enterprise, the promoters of which are now in a hesitating mood? Even from a purely French point of view, is it not clear that the work necessary for the exposition would furnish employment for several years to all branches of national industry? Force of circumstances will compel us to make an exposition grander than the preceding one, and in that case should not we all do our best to rid ourselves of animosity, and work with unusual zeal for the common welfare? All necessary steps have been taken to secure the rapid ratification of this project."

Balfour's Big Meeting at Sheffield
Disturbed by Rowdies—Editorial Prosecution.

A Cruel Cartoon at Mr. Gladstone's Expense—French and German Rivalry.

Prosecution of an Editor.

BERLIN, June 28.—The Freisinnige Zeitung, edited by Eugene Richter, will be prosecuted for "lese majeste." Its offense was saying that the Emperor was liable for a fine for shooting deer out of season. Proceedings have been begun.

Rival Exhibitions.

PARIS, June 27.—The proposal to defer the Berlin exhibition until 1900 has given a new impetus to the plan for a Paris exhibition, in that year. The organizers of the preliminary plan are exerting themselves to secure the approval of the government and the manufacturers.

Shocking the Electors.

LONDON, June 27.—The Star says the Tories at Salisbury have issued a cartoon entitled, "The Grand Old Man's last Journey." It depicts Gladstone with his 83 years bearing a palm in his left hand and his Home Rule bill in his right, being dragged down to hell by the devil. The cartoon has so shocked the electors and those opposed to Mr. Gladstone, that most of the copies have been called in and high prices offered for the remainder that are still in circulation.

Balfour's Meeting.

LONDON, June 27.—The electoral campaign is opening amid the greatest excitement. Balfour spoke at Sheffield to-day, and 15,000 persons were present at the meeting. At the beginning of his speech, Mr. Balfour was continually interrupted with cheers and groans. Finally he expressed regret for the deplorable accident that had occurred to Mr. Gladstone. This caused the uproar to increase, and finally the noise became so great that Balfour could not be heard. The crowd made several attempts to rush upon the platform, and the police had the utmost difficulty in repulsing them. Several women were excited from the crowd in a fainting condition. The meeting terminated in the wildest disorder.

Bismarck and the Kaiser.

MUNICH, June 28.—Prince Bismarck has confirmed the statement that he has requested an interview with the Emperor Franz Joseph, and the latter refused to grant the request.

WHIPPED BY WHITECAPS.

Almost Flayed Alive by Professed Believers in the Blue Laws of Connecticut.

ANSONIA, Conn., June 28.—News of a whitecap outrage in the village of Southford, 12 miles back in the country, reached here to-day. The name of the victim is not known, even by the men who perpetrated the outrage. He has resided in Southford some time, but has kept aloof from the villagers, and is only known by a nickname. For several months there has been talk about a certain woman here, who has visited his house at night. This led to a call being quietly issued, and a meeting was held on Saturday night, at which it was determined to wipe out the scoundrel. At a late hour a party of forty men, disguised as whitecaps, silently marched to the man's home. He was awakened and ordered to come into the yard, where the poor fellow was laid upon the caps tied him to a tree and whipped him with switches cut from a birch tree in the woods near by. He writhed under the terrible punishment, and had almost fainted when the leader ordered the gang to stop. One of the crowd suggested tar and feathers, but the poor man broke away from his captors and escaped to the woods. Where he is now no one knows, but as he was without clothing it is probable that he has made his way to Oxford or Middleburg and has been cared for by some farmer. Southford is a small station on the England road, and now does not travel beyond its borders. The story of the outrage was brought here this afternoon by the stage driver. He said the town is greatly worked up over it and a few strongly condemn the proceedings.

NEWS OF THE PROVINCE.

Stabbing Case at Nanaimo—Larceny of $500.—Good Salmon Catch at Westminster.

Satisfactory Reports From the Celebration Committee at Vancouver—Cattle Maiming at Surrey.

VANCOUVER, June 28.—The Warspite was decorated with flags to-day, Coronation day. At high noon 21 guns were fired, the band playing the National Anthem as the Royal standard was raised to the mast head.

The steamer Umatilla brought in a quantity of wool for Boston. Aldermen Collins, Odlum and McGaigan, are in Victoria interviewing the Lands and Works department with reference to a site for a post house.

Several parties are under arrest for cutting timber surreptitiously on J. W. Horne's property. They are out on bonds of $400 each.

A rousing meeting of the Celebration committee was held, to-night. The citizens more than contributed the large amount necessary to cover expenses. The mammoth Indian canoe procession is almost assured.

A complimentary supper to Mr. Keith, the retiring Manager of the Bank of British Columbia, was held this evening, at the Hotel Vancouver.

The Warspite gave an open air concert, to-night. Hundreds surrounded the mammoth flagship listening to the excellent music of the warship's band.

WESTMINSTER. NEW WESTMINSTER, June 28.—The salmon catch, last night, was good.

R. MacKenzie Munroe, the celebrated bagpipe player, has gone to Kamloops, to play on Dominion Day.

The annual general meeting of the shareholders of the New Westminster Southern Railway Co., will be held at the Secretary's office, here, on Tuesday, July 17.

The contract for the iron work of the Burr-Guichon, and Oddfellows blocks, was awarded, yesterday afternoon, to the Westminster Foundry and Machine Works.

There is scarcely any noteworthy change in the condition of the river here. Old navigators say that the prospect of higher water is lessening every day.

A passenger who arrived over from Nanaimo to-day, via Vancouver, says the trip across the gulf was enhanced by a tacitly understood race between the steamers City of Nanaimo and Catch. The passenger in question was on the first mentioned boat, which showed her competitor a clean pair of heels and three miles to spare by the time Vancouver was reached.

Mr. Noel, city engineer, and Mr. Robson, city clerk, have had an interview with Mr. H. Abbott, of the C. P. R., with regard to right of way through the city, and it has been decided that Mr. Cambie, Chief Engineer of the Pacific division, will shortly come here to go over the ground with the railway committee and city engineer and make an estimate of the cost of moving the railway yards to the reserve below the city.

Hon. Henry Thompson, of Fairhaven, arrived in town last evening, on Great Northern business. He expects General Manager Sheldie from Seattle either this evening or to-morrow, to arrange several matters here in connection with the railway.

The widening of Columbia street opposite the penitentiary grounds is to be proceeded with at once, and to-morrow morning the City Engineer will put a force of men at work on this most desirable improvement.

The farmers of Surrey report that their horses and cattle are being maimed by an unknown individual. The farmers have organized to catch the man.

The question of granting a piece of land to the Chinese for a small hospital has again been shelved. At a former meeting of the council it was referred to the board of health. The board of health reported, filing all kinds of technical objections. Last night it was again referred to the board of health.

NANAIMO. NANAIMO, June 28.—Nearly all the orchards around the city have suffered from blight, and in consequence the crop of fruit promises to be limited. The hot weather is having a good effect on some fruit although it will be late before it will be ripe enough to pick.

Some time back the merchants of this city signed an agreement in favor of early closing. One dry goods merchant, however, states he intends to keep open till 8 o'clock. The matter was brought before the Miners' Association last evening, and promises made to co-operate with those in favor of early closing.

A letter was read at the council meeting last evening, from Dr. A. E. Prueger, medical officer, asking that steps be taken to prevent Chinamen from landing at Nanaimo when coming from Vancouver. His Worship stated that, to his own knowledge, there was one case of a Chinaman coming from the Orient to Vancouver, who was suffering from small pox, and the authorities tried to get him into the hospital on the plea that he was suffering from typhoid fever.

The licensed victuallers presented a petition to the council, praying that a reduction from $300 to $200 be made in the license. The measure party got up a counter petition signed by about 150 residents, praying that the petition be not entertained. The matter was fully discussed, and it was decided to do nothing in the matter this year.

Vessels are rather scarce in harbor. Sallie Thomas (colored) appeared in the Police court to-day charged with stealing $500. Sallie resides in New Westminster, and in company with a woman of questionable character, was out late. The other party being too intoxicated to get home was assisted by Sallie. Next morning she missed $500 which she had the previous night. Sallie came to Nanaimo on Sunday when a warrant was issued. She will be arrested and taken to Westminster to-morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, of Wellington, started for Nanaimo in a buggy this morning. The horse became unmanageable, upsetting the rig and throwing the occupants out. Mr. Bailey had several ribs broken, but Mrs. Bailey was uninjured.

Two longshoremen, Frank Payne and George Lyndon, began quarrelling this morning over some trivial matter, when Payne drew his knife and attempted to stab Lyndon in the abdomen. The knife went through his clothes and made a small flesh wound, when Lyndon broke away from his assailant and sought police protection. Payne was arrested.

THE VANCOUVER SUICIDE.

Little Doubt that the Girl was Edith Edgar—The Body Not Yet Found.

VANCOUVER, June 28.—There is little doubt now as to the identity of the young woman whose life was sacrificed, on Sunday, in the waters of False creek. Edith Edgar has been missing from home ever since, and her description so nearly tallies with that of the woman, that no hope is entertained. It must have been her, but as yet there is nothing elicited to explain why she should have suicided, and the theory of "accident" is now more generally accepted. Mrs. Muir's statement to the COLONIST correspondent that the girl made frantic efforts to keep herself afloat would seem to confirm the accident theory.

There was a rumor current that the victim was Edith Lyle, formerly keeper of a house of ill-fame in Dupont street, and latterly an inmate of the Salvation Army Rescue Home, Victoria, but there does not seem to be anything to confirm this. The Lyle woman returned here from Victoria on Sunday morning and has not been seen since. Some of the Salvation Army were taken to have taken her in hand on her arrival, but apparently they missed her.

The body has not yet been found. The tide runs strong under the bridge, and it is quite possible may have carried the corpse out to sea, in which case it will not likely be found for some weeks, perhaps never. Search is still being made.

EPWORTH LEAGUE PICNIC. The Visiting Delegates Entertained by the Local Members—Trip Up the Arm.

The formal work of the Epworth League Convention being over, the local members resolved that, as a fitting end to the pleasant time spent by all during the last few days, a picnic up the Arm would prove most satisfactory. That they reasoned well was proven by the large number who made up the party, and by the hearty manner in which the delegates and friends enjoyed themselves.

The various spots of interest were visited, and many were the words of praise bestowed upon this most picturesque place. The whole affair was so well arranged and pleasantly carried through, that it will doubtless live long in the memory of those present. Ample refreshments had been provided, and every effort was made to have the visitors feel that Victorians had not earned their reputation for hospitality by half-way measures. The only special incident of the day was the narrow escape of the man who wanted to make a speech.

The committee succeeded in saving his life, after a determined resistance of those who clamored for his scalp. The visitors, one and all, expressed themselves as very favorably impressed with the many attractions of Victoria and the surrounding country, and regretted being unable to spend a longer time with those who have so handsomely entertained them. The outcome of the convention will be shown in the more harmonious working together of the various leagues, and much good will, no doubt, result therefrom. All the meetings were well attended, and an unusual amount of interest was shown in the various exercises, more especially the discussions regarding the best methods of pushing out the work of the young people into new fields.

HOSPITAL APPROPRIATION. Some of the Necessary Improvements which will be Made—To Have Water.

The appropriation of $2,000 for the purpose of improving and repairing the Marine hospital will give opportunity for some much needed work on this institution. Amongst the first and most pressing needs to be attended to is the laying of pipes to connect with the city water works. This will remove one source of inconvenience which those in charge have had to struggle with, and in many ways prove a most valuable addition. The old verandah will have a new floor, and larger posts, and otherwise will be put in good condition. The wood-work is to get a badly needed coat of paint, and the exterior will be generally furnished up. Within the building a number of changes and additions are to be made calculated to improve the means of carrying on the work of the institution, as well as to add to the comfort of the patients. The plumbing throughout will receive a thorough overhauling and some necessary additions made. The present time would be very favorable for carrying on this work, as there are only a few cases on hand now, and none of them are of a dangerous nature, so that the unavoidable bustle of the work would be less liable to be attended with unpleasant results.

SUPREME COURT. IN CHAMBERS. [Before Mr. Justice Walkem.] A. C. Fraser v. Hughett et al.—Application for order for payment of money paid into court to plaintiff or his solicitors. Ordered that sum of $300 be paid out of court to plaintiff or his solicitors on his written authority to receive said sum being produced to the proper officer of the court. Costs to be costs in the cause.

The Singular Headlines. Do great minds run in the same direction? Perhaps so, but there is one sure thing—the poetic soul of the night editor of this paper holds sweet communion now and then with gentlemen holding similar positions on other papers and in other parts of the province. Here are the headlines of three newspapers on the account of the Vancouver suicide:

(Westminster Columbian) "ONE MORE UNFORTUNATE." (Vancouver Telegram) "GONE TO HER DEATH." (Victoria Colonist) "RASHLY UNFORTUNATE."

If poet Tom Moore had known to what use his beautiful production would have been put, safe to say he would never have written it!

GERMAN DEFEAT IN AFRICA

The Country in Which the Natives Had the Foreigners at Their Mercy.

Something About the People—A Scrap of the History of Moshi.

News was received at Zanzibar, some ten days since, confirming the report of the defeat of the German forces under the command of Baron Bulow in the Moshi territory. The district around Fort Morong, to which the Germans were compelled to retreat and subsequently abandon, has been deserted by foreigners. The English missionaries who are working in the districts are safe, and are nursing the wounded Germans, the lives of several of whom have been saved by the missionaries. Bulow lost a hundred men. This is the third of the serious reverses that have overtaken the German arms since Germany started its colony on the East African coast. Bulow's 100 men died on the southern slope of the greatest mountain in Africa. The country of Moshi, where they met their fate, is one of the most interesting and delightful regions in tropical Africa. It gives an idea of the size of the great mountain when it is said that Moshi lies wholly along its southern slope, that several chiefs divide the territory among them, and that they can muster, perhaps, 10,000 fighting men. They have been usually engaged in warfare with one another, but there must have been combination of forces to cause the great disaster which has befallen a well-armed German force.

The most important of these chiefs is King Mandara, the one-eyed potentate, who, long ago, was made famous by explorers. Joseph Thomson first described him, and had friendly relations with him. It was King Mandara's ambassadors who went to Berlin nearly three years ago, resolved not to be astonished at anything they saw. From first to last they declared that their king had much more wonderful things in his country, and they regarded him as a greater ruler than the young Emperor William. Mandara was fierce, and made things unpleasant for some explorers. He tried to starve H. H. Johnston during the months which that explorer spent on the upper slopes of the mountain. The wily old king wished to extort larger presents from his visitors, and caused Johnston no end of vexation. The warriors of Moshi have every climate within a few hours' march of their homes. Kilima-Njaro, on its southern slope, is clothed for about 9,000 feet with verdure. For several thousand feet up the mountain the native plantations are crowded thick together, and the vegetation is wholly of a tropical character. Further up vegetation becomes more sparse, until finally nothing grows but dwarf shrubs and plants that are found on the borders of the Arctic region. Then, succeeds the area of eternal snow, upon which Mandara and his ancestors gazed for centuries, not knowing what it was, for none of them ever ventured up to the snow line. The cold scared them away long before they got into the neighborhood of ice and snow.

Johnston's porters, whom Mandara had furnished, deserted him when they reached the snow line and defeated his purpose of ascending to the ice-bound crater of Kibo. Later explorers had the greatest difficulty in tempting the natives above the snow line, and it was only by threatening his men with severe punishment that Mandara at length induced a few blacks to stand by Dr. Meyer as he struggled over the ice toward the top of the mountain. The poor wretches were nearly frozen and the explorer was compelled to leave them far below the top of Kibo. About four years ago the English and Germans became rivals for the possession of this beautiful land of Moshi. A German was first on the ground with a flag, which Mandara graciously accepted, simply because there came with it an abundant supply of presents. A little later an Englishman came along with a British flag, and Mandara promptly hauled down the German emblem and hoisted the British colors. The next traveler was a representative of Germany and a liberal supply of presents caused the English flag in its turn to trail in the dust and the German colors again floated from the flagstaff. The rivalry was finally ended by the agreement between England and Germany as to their boundary, which was drawn just north of Kilima-Njaro, so that Moshi was left entirely in the possession of the Germans. The Germans have for some time maintained a station there and missionaries have been at work among the natives. We have no intimation of the cause of the trouble which brought about an uprising of these mountaineers against their German rulers. It is more than likely that the Germans have been guilty of the same mismanagement and lack of tact which have precipitated their other troubles in Africa.

A POLITICAL ABSCONDER.

Col. Ashford Accused of Treason to the Hawaiian Government Contrives to Escape.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Advices by the steamer Australia, which arrived from Honolulu, this morning, state that Commander Frederick Schweisig, of the Austrian corvette Fasana, which left here for Honolulu, last month, died at sea of apoplexy, on the 11th instant. The funeral took place at Honolulu.

One subject of conversation among the passengers was the disappearance of Volney V. Ashford. On Friday morning he was a prisoner before Judge Dole on a charge of treason. In company with J. V. Ripkane, G. P. Maxwell, P. Markham, Mr. Ross and Karuimnyku, he was discharged, while Wilcox and six others were held to answer before the Hawaiian superior court. When Deputy Attorney-General Creighton heard of the decision of the court, he announced that he would at once have Ashford and his companions rearrested on a charge of conspiracy. The newly liberated man was not taking chances, however, and with the assistance of his brother, Hon. C. W. Ashford, he secured the steamer Hawaii and started for Mahukoua. At the latter point the brig John D. Spreckels was in ballast and ready to go to sea. Ashford got on board, the anchor was weighed and he is now nine days on his way to San Francisco.

Some of the passengers on the steamer Australia say that the Hawaiian Government winked at the escape, and others even assert that it helped him to get away. One thing they say is certain. The cargo was taken out of the steamer Hawaii in a very great hurry and the brig left in ballast, something unusual. Ashford is well known in San Francisco. In Hawaii he is known as Col. Volney V. Ashford, having at one time been in command of King Kalakaua's household troops. Later he took up with Wilcox, and became a leader of the

BISMARCK'S ATTITUDE.

The Press on the Position Taken by the Iron Chancellor.

BERLIN, June 27.—This morning's dailies throughout the empire discuss at length the Bismarck interview, which appeared in full in the German press yesterday. Excepting the Hamburg Nachrichten, Bismarck's mouthpiece, and his secondary organ, the Munich Allgemeine Zeitung, few if any representative journals have anything but words of condemnation. The more obscure Bavarian dailies have nothing but praise for the ex-chancellor, however, for they find in his attack upon the general government a fine text for state rights articles. The Munich Neuesten Nachrichten is especially warm in its commendation. The Leipziger Tagblatt points out that Bismarck when in office hunted men to their ruin for saying less against the regime than he has now said against the administration of Count Caprivi. His charges against Caprivi to the effect that the latter has forfeited the czar's confidence are said to be contrary to notorious facts, for whatever may have been the czar's feeling toward Emperor William he has repeatedly taken pains to emphasize his partiality to the present chancellor. The last chance of reconciliation between Bismarck and the emperor is acknowledged by all to have been removed by the intemperate utterances in the Vienna interview.

ACCUSED OF SMUGGLING.

Where the Opium was Hidden on the Steamer Melligan.

SEATTLE, June 28.—In the U.S. district court, before Judge Hanford and a jury, two of the crew of the steamship Michigan appeared, yesterday, suspected of having smuggled 352 pounds of opium seized by Collector Wasson at Port Townsend, April 20. The opium was discovered in two out-of-the-way places adjacent to the engine room, and Chief Engineer J. F. Burke and his second assistant, S. Menzies, are the suspected persons. Deputy Collector W. H. McCurdy gave a lucid explanation of the places where the contraband article was located. In order to reach one of the hiding places, it was necessary to descend a ladder into the engine room, go forward around the boiler, descend by a trap door on to the keelson of the ship, crawl forward eight or nine feet, and slip a trap door overhead, which opened into the starboard coal bunker from below. The other was found in the side of the coal bunkers, where a four by six inch opening in the sheet iron lining was concealed by the end of a beam fixed to a cross beam so as to appear as a part of the ship. The accused claimed that they had no connection whatever with stowing of the opium and knew nothing of its concealment until it was brought to light by the Government.

A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

The Toronto Mail, which is not by any means in love with the present Government, and particularly with its French-Canadian members, says that "Mr. Chapleau deserves to be commended for the attention he has given to the Customs Department since he has been at the head of that bureau, and for the effort he is making to reform its abuses." One of the abuses which Mr. Chapleau has set about reforming is that connected with seizures. There have been, of late years, a great many complaints with respect to the way in which seizures are made and with respect to the manner in which the money realized has been disposed of. What our contemporary says about the change that has been made and about the abuse that still exists is so sensible and so timely that we think it well worth reproducing. It says:

"Now the new Minister has looked into the moiety system under which Customs officers have added so handsomely to their incomes. In his investigation he has been materially helped both by the discussions in the press and the reports made by and to the Civil Service Board. The Commissioners heard Mr. Johnson upon the subject, and he declared that officials of the inside service, at least, should not share in the proceeds of seizures. Mr. Johnson's view was adopted by the Commissioners, and they reported that the payment of any Ottawa officers for seizures made by him was an abuse. Mr. Chapleau appears to have regarded with favor the opinions thus expressed, for an Order-in-Council just issued on his recommendation modifies the regulations having reference to seizures. In future regular seizing officers may receive one-third of the proceeds of the seizure; but collectors of customs and other officers receiving less than $2,000 a year may receive only 5 per cent., while officials receiving $2,000 a year or more, and all officers of the inside service, that is to say, departmental officers, shall receive nothing. The changed regulations, which come in force on July 1, are a great improvement upon those heretofore in force under which the harassment of merchants by acquisitive officers was directly promoted. But while the amendment is commendable, so far as it goes, it can scarcely be said that it goes far enough. A sharp distinction should be drawn between smuggled goods and goods in respect of which charges of undervaluation are made. The officers might reasonably be encouraged to check smuggling, but in no case should they be rewarded for discovering undervaluation; for while the Government can be no party to smuggling operations, it is, through its officers who inspect and pass the invoices and goods, as much responsible for undervaluation as the importers themselves. It is unfair that one set of officers should pass goods below their value, and that another set of officers, or possibly the same set, should turn upon the merchants and claim money from them for an offence in respect of which they had no guilty intent."

It must be admitted that it does look singular to see Custom House officers months, and sometimes years, after the entries have been regularly made, without a single exception being taken to the valuations, taking proceedings against the merchant who may have had no intention to defraud the revenue, and profiting by their own ignorance or neglect. We have, indeed, heard of officers allowing entries, which they believed to be fraudulent, to pass until a big enough pile had accumulated, and then pouncing upon the unsuspecting importer. The Mail is right when it says that a sharp distinction should be drawn between smuggled goods and goods in respect to which charges of undervaluation have been made.

CO-OPERATION.

There are many who see in co-operation the happy solution of the great labor problem. A trial has been made of co-operation in many countries, but its success has as yet been only partial. Co-operation in distribution has been in a very great measure successful. It has been found that co-operative stores can be made to pay, and that through their means the consumer can get the best articles at the lowest possible cost and also a nice little dividend of profit. Some of the co-operative concerns in Great Britain do an immense business, and they do it well. But co-operation in production has not been nearly so successful. The reason given is that, though the co-operators are very willing to share profits, they become restive and discontented when they are required to bear their fair proportion of losses. In France and in the United States men have been found to co-operate on true business principles, and their success has given some encouragement to those who regard co-operation as a cure for the evils from which labor suffers. But the history of co-operative production in England is the account of a series of lamentable failures. It is because of these failures that many of the friends of labor in England have come to the conclusion that co-operation in production can never be made to pay. But there are some enthusiasts who are of a different opinion. The whole question was fully and intelligently discussed at the annual Co-operative Congress, which met at Rochdale at the beginning of the present month. From the papers read and the speeches made at that Congress we gather that there are good men who still have faith in co-operative production, who, to use the words of the president, "believe that the profits of all trade, industry, commerce, importation, banking and money dealing should fall back again into the hands of the whole people." The members of this Congress may be set down by some of our readers as theorists and enthusiasts, but it must be admitted that their theories are harmless and their enthusiasm philanthropic.

THE INHOSPITABLE RUSSIAN.

The expulsion of Mr. Poultny Bigelow and Mr. Frederick Remington from Russia shows how watchful the minions of the Czar are, and how difficult it is for any one, even a stranger, who has by speaking freely, made himself obnoxious to his Government, to escape observation. Mr. Bigelow is a writer as well as a traveller; he has criticized the acts and the methods of the Russian Government pretty sharply in articles that have been published in Europe and America. He and Mr. Remington, who is an American artist of some celebrity, proposed to make a canoe voyage from Russia to Germany. Mr. Bigelow was to take notes of what he saw and heard, and Mr. Remington was to draw sketches illustrative of his companion's text. The two gentlemen were armed with exceptional passports bearing the signature of the late Secretary of State, Mr. Blaine. It was expected that, accredited in this way, by the United States Government, they would be allowed to pursue their journey through Russia unwatched and unmolested. But they reckoned without the Czar. Mr. Bigelow soon found to his cost that he was known, and unfavorably known, to the Russian authorities. The travellers were visited by agents of the Minister of Police, and not too civilly informed that they must leave the country. Their canoes were seized and they were conveyed to the Russian frontier. What the United States Government will have to say to this uncivil treatment of United States citizens remains to be seen. If two American travellers were treated in this way in any part of the British Empire, the United States newspapers would be filled with indignant comments on British "brutality," and the Secretary of State would lose no time in demanding from the British Government an explanation of such an act of barbarous inhospitality—such a breach of international comity. But as the offence has been offered by the Czar of all the Russias, our American neighbors notice it calmly, and even philosophically, and do not attempt to resent the indignity. Whence this unwonted calmness, this more than Christian forbearance?

CLEVELAND'S PROSPECTS.

We gather from what we read in the United States newspapers that Mr. Cleveland is a strong candidate. There are very many who are not partisan politicians, who admire Mr. Cleveland for his ability, his courage and his honesty. His administration was, in their opinion, a clean one, and they like him because he did promptly and pluckily what he believed to be right, no matter whom he displeased. These men will give him their hearty support.

The tariff reformers will vote for Cleveland to a man. There are more of them in the United States than many imagine. It is the general opinion that the great majority of Americans believe in high protection, and approve heartily of the McKinley tariff. It is quite true that a large number of United States citizens believe in America for the Americans, in the narrowest sense, men who would surround their country with a high tariff wall, and who would buy nothing from the foreigner that could be any possibility, and at almost any sacrifice, be produced at home; but there are also many Americans who consider that their tariff is much too high, that it places a heavy and altogether unnecessary burden upon the industries of the country, and is unjust to the consumer. They believe that with a more liberal trade policy the foreign trade of the country would be greatly more extensive than it is, and that the labor of the country would be much more profitably employed than under high protection. They believe that taxes should be imposed for revenue purposes alone and that the Government should meddle as little as possible with the trade of the country. The party which holds these views has been growing of late years and its members declare that it is already stronger than the party of high protection.

There is a large mugwump vote in the United States. The mugwumps do not believe in the methods of the Republican party. They will not submit to the rule of the bosses and they detest political corruption in all its forms. They, too, are earnest advocates of civil service reform. They abhor the spoils system and they believe that the public business of the country should be done on business principles. Cleveland comes nearer to their ideal than any other American statesman, and they will, therefore, work for him and vote for him.

Cleveland will get a large vote from the business men of all parts of the Union, particularly of the East, leaving out, of course, the manufacturers, who, as a body, will support the Republican candidate. The arm-chair politicians who vote for a man because he is honest and acts upon principle, will support Cleveland. The men who believe that the United States consumers of all classes are too heavily taxed, will help to return him. The hereditary Democrats who vote for the party candidate, no matter who he may be or what may be his character, will do their best to make the choice of the Democratic convention President. When all these are counted up it will be found that Mr. Cleveland will have a goodly following, that cannot be influenced by the machine.

The professional politicians of the Democratic party will find that if they do not want to be wholly discredited they will have to fall into line. They will be compelled to do during the campaign what prudence caused them to do at the Chicago Convention. The Cleveland boom will be altogether too strong to be withstood. The prospect just now is that the Democratic Party and a good many who have not been recognized as party politicians at all, will give the ex-President their support. It is too soon to form even an intelligent surmise as to which of the candidates will be elected, but it is quite certain that if the Republicans intend to beat Cleveland they will have to strain every nerve and draw heavily upon every resource at their command.

In the office of Rand Bros., Cordova street, Vancouver, to Hawthorne Estate.

VALUABLE SAWMILL

At West Bay, Gambier Island.

I have been instructed by the Mortgagees of the above estate to sell by auction the above valuable property, consisting of the sawmill at West Bay, Gambier Island, and 320 acres of land, taking in the most of the harbor. This mill is in complete working order, with a capacity to cut 25,000 to 30,000 feet per day, and is most centrally located for the markets of Vancouver, New Westminster, Nanaimo and Victoria, and the northern coast. This mill has the range of all Howe Sound and other places for cheap logging, which can be bought for about $1.00 per 1,000 less than other places on account of the safety and facilities for landing logs at the mill.

The harbor is one of the safest in B.C., being perfectly sheltered from all winds; the anchorage is good and the water deep enough for large sea-going vessels. The depth of water at wharf is 31 feet at low water, and alongside the mill is a perfect boom harbor. There is from 80 to 100 acres of first class farming land adjacent to the mill, being older bottoms and easily cleared. The distance of the property from Vancouver is about 20 miles.

The following is a list of the improvements, viz:—What 61x80, 2 large boilers, steam engine, 2 circular saws, 1 spate saw, shafting, pulleys, belting, carriage ways, edger, 2 trimmers, planers, traveler from mill, wharf, rotary chains for hauling logs from boom to mill, tools, 6 m chains, and everything necessary for running a mill. The size of the mill is 6x25, exclusive of the saw and there is a large stacking yard; a storehouse, 6x25, 14 stories; fire-proof safe; hotel, 2 stories, store, bar, kitchen and bedrooms; there are five cabins and other improvements. There is a fine creek running through the property, with a never failing supply of water. The auctioneer would call special attention to this valuable property as a good and sound investment, and intending purchasers are invited to inspect the same before date of sale. The same Statute leave Vancouver twice a week, calling at this property, if any passengers wish to land.

Terms of sale—One-half cash, balance on ap proved security at 7 per cent. per annum.

—OF—

FARM LANDS, PITT RIVER

Re Pittendrigh Estate.

SATURDAY, JULY 2

At 12 o'clock noon.

I have been instructed by the Mortgagee to sell by auction, in Rand Bros. office, Cordova street, VANCOUVER, the Pittendrigh Estate, situated on Pitt River, consisting of the so called quarter of Section 16, containing 100 acres, and the north half and southwest quarter of Section 9, containing 366 acres, containing in the whole 526 acres or less—said sections adjoining and being in Township 40, New Westminster District.

These sections were taken up about 20 years ago, and are considered the choice of the Pitt River lands. The lands are of first-class quality, about 410 acres being choice prairie farm lands, and the balance timber lands. There is a road from New Westminster to the property, and the C. P. Railway main line runs close to the property.

This property equals the best Delta lands of the Fraser River, and any person wishing to acquire a valuable farm property should not miss this chance, as it is so favorably situated to the markets of Vancouver and New Westminster, either by rail or water. All of this land has a southerly aspect for early agricultural, dairy or fruit business. Inspection is invited to this valuable property.

Terms—One-half cash, balance on mortgage in two years, at 8 per cent.

W. S. Chambers' reliable and fast mare, Maud C., has returned home in good condition from the series of victories on the Kent track.

Very, Very Warm.

Everybody knew that yesterday was a hot day, but not everybody knew how hot it was. The special Standard thermometer at the Government assay office at 2:30 p.m. reached 84.2 in the shade.

A.F. & A.M.

An emergency meeting of Vancouver and Quadra Lodge, No. 2, A.F. & A.M., will be held this evening at 7:30 sharp. Work in first degree. Sojourning brethren in good standing are cordially invited.

A Wedding Down.

The fire engine was out, yesterday evening, on a more prosaic errand than fighting fire, but one which the heated citizens appreciated nevertheless. The cooling streams were played upon the business streets with a most refreshing effect.

Wedding Bells.

Mr. George Carson, who is with the firm of Muirhead & Munn, left yesterday for Vancouver, where he is to meet and wed Miss Connell, of Guelph, Ont. Mr. E. Dickinson will entertain the bridal party on their return to this city.

K. of P. Meeting.

Victoria Division No. 2, Knights of Pythias, held its regular monthly business meeting, last night, in the Pioneer Hall. Full dress was worn, as there were some candidates initiated after the regular business had been disposed of.

Contracts Awarded.

The contracts for supplies to the Provincial Jail, in Victoria, have been let to the following business firms, viz: Groceries, Henry Saunders; clothing, Gilmour & McCandless; bread, Wilson Bros.; coal, Chas. Rattray. The meat contract has not yet been let.

Death of Miss Sinclair.

Margaret, second daughter of Mr. John Sinclair, of Cadboro Bay, died, yesterday morning, after a very brief illness. She was 19 years of age, and had many friends who will regret to hear of her demise. The funeral will take place on Thursday at 3 o'clock, from 23 Green street.

A Hot Weather Pointer.

These warm days the stone masons, working on the new Board of Trade building, protect themselves from the hot rays of the sun by putting up a cotton screen. It is suggested that it would be a good idea for the contractors to furnish the men with green parasols with an awning attachment.

Walk Up.

The secretary of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital begs to call the attention of the many kind friends who have donated their refund of improvement taxes to the hospital, to the fact that their cheques are now ready at the City Hall awaiting their endorsement. He would feel obliged by their calling as early as possible.

An Early Hour Nuisance.

Complaint has been made to the police that some one of the city scavengers violated the by-law by driving an offensive wagon load of refuse down Menzies street, much to the discomfort of residents, who, between 9 and 10 o'clock were still sitting up with doors and windows open. In one quarter especially the complaint was long and loud, for the wagon halted on the street right in front of a gentleman's house, and stayed there for about five minutes while some piece of refuse was being attended to. Residents say they will not put up with the nuisance.

Another Good House.

A fairly good house greeted the second appearance in Victoria of the Blue Jeans Company last night, and the audience was just as delighted as on Monday night at the really fine production. Once more the saw mill scene came in for its share of praise. Everyone recognizes at once the carefulness with which the details of the play have been looked after, and, of course, that is a strong point to start with. The general excellence of the company and the good music supplied at intervals keep the attention all through and relieve the thrilling scenes. The third and last performance here will be given to-night.

Ontario's Provincial Secretary.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, provincial secretary of Ontario, arrived by the Yosemite last evening from Vancouver, and will remain in the city a few days. For some time past he has been in poor health, and has sought for recuperation in the Rockies and on the Pacific slope. When he returns to his home in Hamilton, Ont., it is hoped he will have been greatly benefited by the trip. Hon. Mr. Gibson is Lieut.-Colonel commanding the 13th battalion at Hamilton, and is one of the most popular and most respected officers in the Canadian militia. His stay in Victoria will be made pleasant by some old friends.

The Creole Company.

Friday and Saturday, July 1 and 2, Sam T. Jack's Creole Burlesque Company will be at the Victoria Theatre. The entertainment is divided into a first part and a brilliant olio: "Tropical Revels" is said to be a rich conception and surpasses all other introductions. It is a rare scenic achievement, revealing an ideal picture of enchantment, the most forcible mind can hardly conceive. Creole belles and Egyptian beauties sing and dance together, appearing in the most exquisite costumes. It is replete with new music, songs and dances and teems with bright ideas. The scene is taken from the beautiful land of the tropics, and is a perfect reproduction of the golden clime. Beautiful tableaux are introduced. In the olio are very bright specialties and many novel features, including the gavotte and grand ensemble, Egyptian pastimes and Creole revels. There is a grand challenge dancing contest, in which many expert terepshorean artists participate. Vocalists, comedians, acrobats, dancers, enchantresses and specialty artists of every description contribute to the olio. The Creole belles, as well as the

Some Compliments Paid to John L. Sullivan for Refusing to Fight Jackson.

THE RING.

In recounting the battle between Jimmy Robinson, the Black, and James Evans, in 1846, the London Licensed Victuallers Gazette, has the following: "It will be noticed that there was no 'barring of color' among British boxers in those days any more than now. None but Yankees have ever been guilty of such unsportsmanlike conduct. It has been left to J. L. Sullivan to set an example of what we can only call curianness, which all true English sportsmen regard as despicable and unmanly. We are thankful to say that there never was an English bruiser from the days of Tom Cribb till now, who was not ready to fight all comers, be their color or country what they might. These many English traditions are still preserved amongst us, but on the other side of the Atlantic we have the contemptible spectacle of a man who boasts being a citizen of a free and independent Republic where all men are equal, deliberately declining to fight the best heavyweight man living, on the ground that the latter is a man of color. And this is that boasted liberty, equality, and fraternity of American institutions! Still it is well for John L. Sullivan that he has such a convenient excuse to shelter himself from the certain defeat which would await him at the hands of Peter Jackson."

THE WHEEL.

The semi-monthly Wanderers' Club handicap races were held, last night, at the Driving Park. There was a fair attendance of wheelmen. The one mile dash had three entries, Jeffrey, Bradley and Tiedemann. After an exciting race they came in in the order named, time 3:27. The two mile race was the most exciting, and was about as good an exhibition as has been seen for some time. The entries were Jeffrey, Tiedemann and Moody. Jeffrey scratched, Tiedemann 100 yards, Moody 125 all on pneumatics. Moody led the first three laps, when Tiedemann closed up and passed him, and Jeffrey came up, afterwards passing Moody and Tiedemann 15 yards from the scratch, and only beating Tiedemann by half a wheel. Time 7:11.

A Small Vag.

Late last night Officer Smith found a small Indian boy, apparently about nine years old, wandering about "without a name or local habitation." The diminutive vag was taken in charge until either called for or something further is learned of his proper guardians.

Seized and Released.

A notice was posted up in the forenoon of the Halcyon yesterday, signed by Collector Milne, detaining the schooner for an alleged infraction of the customs laws of Canada. An officer was placed on board to hold the vessel. A thorough investigation was made by the Collector, which resulted in the release of the vessel, the owners and crew making a satisfactory explanation.

In St. James' Hall.

Fully fifty people were present at the ball given by Mrs. McLean in St. James' hall, last evening. The hall inside was nicely arranged for the occasion, and those who were there attended with the view of spending a pleasant, sociable evening, during which they fully realized what they anticipated. Refreshments were on hand the whole evening, and could be had at any time by entering a room set apart for the purpose. The bantly family provided the music, the programme of which was as follows: Waltz, waltz, schottische, lancers, waltz, polka, waltz, polka, waltz, galop, waltz, polka, waltz, and Sir Roger.

I.O.G.T. Meeting.

Perseverance Lodge, No. 1, I.O.G.T., is rapidly increasing in membership, a number of new names being added to the roll at every meeting. Last night the brothers entertained the members present with the following programme:

Song.....Bro. Russell
Solo.....Sister Robertson
Recitation.....Bro. Wright
Song.....Bro. Watson

After the completion of the programme, refreshments in the shape of cakes, strawberries and cream, etc., were served, and the evening passed in pleasant social chat. The entertainment was a most enjoyable one and all present expressed the hope that the G.T.'s would repeat it at an early date.

SOLDIERS' DAY.

The Claims of the Veterans Urged Upon Congress and Acted On.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—This was Soldiers' Day in the House. The Committee on Invalid Pensions was accorded the floor. For the first time, this session, the war veterans had a hearing, bills being passed to pension army nurses now without means of support, who served for six months in caring for and nursing the sick and wounded; to provide a pension of $50 per month for non specific disabilities, and to remove the disability of those who participated in the rebellion and who have since enlisted in the Navy or Army of the United States and become disabled. Mr. Meredith (Democrat) Virginia, opposed the former bill on the ground that these nurses had already been paid and should not be further regarded. Mr. Smith (Republican, Illinois) enlivened women in general and the noble nurses in particular who worked so zealously during the war. This Phillipic excited considerable laughter and enlivened the otherwise dull session.

Fell from a Scaffold.

Two painters who were working on a house at Russell's Station, met with a very painful accident, last evening. They were up on a scaffold, which suddenly gave way, causing them to fall heavily to the ground. Report had it, last evening, that one of the two had his arm badly broken, and the other was said to have been much cut and bruised about the head.

East Kootenay.

Mr. Aitkin, a mining expert, and Mr. W. H. Bainbridge, of the Thunder Hill Mining Co., will take a run into the East Kootenay country, in a day or two, for the purpose of giving the Thunder Hill property a thorough looking over. Some important development work will be mapped out, and the matter of selecting additional machinery, with a view of selecting that best adapted for the class of ore to be handled, will be attended to.

A Hundred Miles an Hour.

The Pittsburg Dispatch says that recently Dr. Wellington Adams, an electrician of Chicago, explained to an audience that was interested, astonished, and, as some frankly admitted, rather incredulous, the details of an electric railway that is about to be built between Chicago and St. Louis. It is to follow an air line, paying no attention whatever to obstructions. It is to run cars at a speed of at least 100 miles an hour. It is to be in operation by the spring of 1893.

The Bluff Did Not Work.

One of the conductors on the James Bay and Douglas street tram cars had considerable trouble with a passenger who got on at Superior street yesterday. The man absolutely refused either to pay his fare or get off the car at the request of the conductor. A policeman was fortunately easily available and gave the stranger the choice of leaving the car or paying up. He refused for awhile, but, seeing that the officer meant business, the regular car fare was set up.

Scrofula of the Neck

The following is from Mrs. J. W. Thibault, wife of the Mayor of Moncton, N. B.: "My little boy Willie, now six years old, two years ago had a bump under one ear which the doctor said was Scrofula. As it continued to grow he finally lanced it and it discharged for some time. We then began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla and he improved very rapidly until the sore healed up. Last winter it broke out again, followed by Erysipelas. We again gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla with most excellent results and he has had no further trouble. His cure is due to Hood's Sarsaparilla."

He has never been very robust, but now seems healthy and daily growing stronger."

FIRE AT SEATTLE.

Nearly Half a Million Dollars Worth of Loss Sustained—Injuries to Firemen.

Great Excitement—Numerous Explosions—Prompt Resumption of Business by the Sufferers.

SEATTLE, June 28.—The most destructive fire that has visited Seattle since the memorable conflagration of June 6, 1889, visited the city yesterday afternoon, when the Schwabacher block, on Commercial street and Yesler avenue, was almost completely destroyed, with a loss of nearly $500,000. That the fire did not spread to the adjoining buildings and cause an immensely greater loss is attributed to the efficiency of the fire department.

It was shortly after 6 o'clock when the alarm was sounded and despite the celerity with which the department reached the scene, when the first engine arrived, the smoke was rolling in thick, brown masses from the cellar of the doomed block. The streams from the engines were quickly directed into the cellar of the building, but so stifling was the smoke that it was almost impossible for the pipemen to stand against it. It was what is termed a blind fire.

Presently the flames, which had seemingly been confined to the basement, began to show their fiery tongues in the other portions of the building, and with their appearance rumors began to be circulated that considerable blasting and giant powder and dynamite was stored in the building, and the crowd, which numbered thousands and had given the police considerable difficulty in keeping them back off the ropes, showed much greater respect for the municipal authorities than it had before.

Meanwhile the inmates of the Northern hotel, two blocks away, were in a state of high excitement whether the fire would reach that structure or not, and the office was thronged with guests of both sexes, some irresolute whether to remove their baggage or not, others hastily getting all that was portable to the lower floor, while still others, disregarding the smoke that permeated every room, especially the dining room, deliberately finished their dinners. Calmest and coolest among all, however, was Miss Stella Wagner, the bookkeeper, who had charge of the office in the absence of the regular clerks, who were superintending the removal of the guest's baggage, and her apparent faith that the building would not suffer serious damage, and her reassuring answers to all questions did a great deal toward preventing confusion from getting "worse confounded."

The firemen were manfully standing at their posts, not a man flinching, and yet, despite the thousands of gallons of water which were being thrown into the building from every possible point, the breath of the fierce flames grew hotter and hotter, and the masses of brown and amber-colored smoke rolled upward in increasing volumes, while the wind carried blazing fragments for a long distance, rendering the danger of the conflagration spreading more imminent. One of these lit upon the awning over A. Fortoulis & Co.'s store, on the corner of Commercial and Washington streets, and immediately it began to blaze. Water in buckets and pails, applied from above and below, speedily extinguished the incipient flames, but it acted as a warning to the occupants of stores on the opposite side of the street, and with axes and levers the awnings were speedily torn from their fastenings.

Suddenly there came a sharp detonation from the interior of the fiercely blazing building, in whose upper stories the flames were following their ruddy glare, and this was followed by a series of sharp reports resembling most vividly the peculiar rattle of a Gatling gun in action. The cause of this immeasurably rapid apparent discharge of small arms did not at first dawn upon the minds of the immense throng that had gathered, but when it occurred to them that it was occasioned by the explosion of cartridges stored in the building, no further encroachment was made beyond the ropes, and the area was left to the firemen, the police and the reporters.

There was a case of giant powder in the shipping room on the first floor near the rear, for it bulged and wrenched from the fastenings the iron framework of the doors and windows in the first floor, and the flames were following their ruddy glare, and this was followed by a series of sharp reports resembling most vividly the peculiar rattle of a Gatling gun in action. The cause of this immeasurably rapid apparent discharge of small arms did not at first dawn upon the minds of the immense throng that had gathered, but when it occurred to them that it was occasioned by the explosion of cartridges stored in the building, no further encroachment was made beyond the ropes, and the area was left to the firemen, the police and the reporters.

The discharge of ammunition lasted many minutes and greatly increased the danger incurred by the men who were fighting the flames and resulted in the injury of Chris Miller, who was one of five brave men in the basement at the rear of the building, he receiving a scalp wound some three inches in length from one of the flying bullets. He was taken out bleeding profusely. Presently those of the firemen who had been in the basement were led out, all begrimed with their work and fresh blood streaming down their injured faces.

Ere the flames had been subdued the heads of the different departments and members of the firm of Schwabacher Bros. & Co., assembled in the private apartments of Secretary James Goldsmith, and there made out a list of orders that were telegraphed to San Francisco last night. The firm owns the State building, corner Main and Second streets, and will take possession of the corner store room this morning, expecting a shipload of goods, both grocery and hardware, to arrive within five days. Several consignments are also due on the Northern Pacific road that were ordered some days ago from Eastern points.

The loss, as estimated by a member of the firm, will aggregate $445,000. The building, which is almost a total wreck, was constructed at a cost of $120,000, while the goods in stock were worth $325,000. The definite amount of insurance is not positively known, but it is believed to fully cover the loss. The insurance was all placed by the San Francisco agency of Balfour, Guthrie & Co. Schwabacher Bros. & Co., control three large establishments in Seattle, Portland and San Francisco, and are among the largest importers and shippers on the Pacific Coast.

MEETING OF HIERARCHS.

Said to be the Most Momentous Gathering Ever Held in America.

New York, June 28.—A World reporter has learned that circulars calling a meeting of Catholic Archbishops in New York in October have been issued, in view of differences existing on the school question. The meeting is looked upon as the most momentous one that Catholic dignitaries have ever held in America. Thirteen archbishops of the United States will be present, including Archbishop Ireland. Cardinal Gibbons will preside. As the interpretation that the prelates who are opposed to Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Ireland put upon the Pope's recent decision on the Faribault system is directly at variance with its meaning, as judged by those dignitaries, it is said a more explicit verdict is likely to be rendered in the Vatican before the archbishops come together in October.

AFGHAN APPREHENSION.

Trouble Brewing in the Land of the Ameer—It May Spread Extensively.

SIMLA, June 27.—Matters look somewhat critical in Afghanistan. Some time ago the Ameer sent emissaries among the independent tribes in the border land between India and Afghanistan, with the object of getting them to acknowledge him as suzerain, through the independent chieftains, known as the estate of Bajikara, and comprising the country between Kafiristan and Swat. The Ameer's agents evidently had little success with these tribesmen, and this was attributed to the influence of Amru Khan. The chief had been a prominent figure in border politics for the last ten years, and had risen to a practical leadership among the petty chiefs of Baji, the Ameer has always regarded his rising power with jealousy, and recently he dispatched a force, said to consist of about 1,500 regulars, the same number of tribal levies and some mounted guns, against him and the other Khans. This was under the command of Gholam Hyder, the Ameer's commander-in-chief. News has now been received that the Mahmud tribe, aided by the forces of the Khan of Jandel, attacked and defeated the Ameer's army. To make the situation worse, the tribesmen have cut off Gholam Hyder's communication with Afghanistan. The Indian Government some time ago notified the Ameer that he should not exceed his authority westward, but, like all his predecessors, the Ameer has always hankered to extend his power beyond its admitted sphere, and his attempt to do so now threatens to result disastrously.

PARLIAMENT PROROGUED.

The Imperial House of Commons Dissolved—General Elections to Come Off at Once.

Outline of Queen's Speech—Relations With the United States—Behring Sea.

LONDON, June 27.—The Queen prorogued Parliament to-day. According to the proclamation for dissolution, the general election writs must issue forthwith. Nominations must be made by Saturday, and the borough elections will be completed by July 6. In closing, the Queen emphasizes the duration of the Salisbury Government, and thanks Parliament for its faithful performance of the last six years.

The Queen's speech says: The time has arrived when it is expedient that the electoral body of the country should be consulted by the assembling of a new Parliament. I have, therefore, summoned you for prorogation at an earlier period than usual. I am glad my friendly relations with the foreign powers remain unaltered. Treaties have been duly ratified referring to our differences with the United States, with respect to Behring Sea, to arbitration.

Referring to the bills passed at the session just ended, the Queen's speech says that the engagements Parliament has made enabling workmen to purchase agricultural holdings will increase the class of cultivating owners, which is of great importance to the state. The application to Ireland of the educational measures recently adopted in Great Britain will confer great benefits upon the people of that country. The speech concluded: "In closing this Parliament, which has been unusually laborious and also highly fruitful in beneficial legislation, I thank you for the assiduous performance of your momentous duties during the past six years, and heartily commend you to the favor of Almighty God."

TAMMANY DENOUNCED.

The Slippery God-children of Boss Tweed Cannot Intimidate the Pulpit.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Rev. Thomas Dixon, jr., under bail pending trial on the charge of libelling Excise Commissioner Koch from the pulpit, as a prelude to his sermon, on Sunday, made a statement of facts upon which the so-called libelous words in his review of May 20th were based. Dixon said in part: Tammany is simply trying to throttle free speech in the pulpit of New York. There is no mystery in Tammany's complaint before a Tammany judge, it being shot like lightning through the district attorney's office into the itching talons of a Tammany foreman, especially when the indictment is based on an assault on Tammany. Tammany Hall is the most powerful coterie of organized criminals that ever dominated life in any civilization. It makes and unmakes judges and juries. It feeds and breeds on vice and crime. With a merciless iron heel it crushes the weak, intimidates the half-hearted, and defies the strong. It is the withering, blasting curse of our city's life, damning with the hot breath of corruption and dishonor every remnant of our body politic. Like a festering cancer, it is literally eating the honor out of the heart of our ambitious young manhood.

If it be true that the life of a minister of the Gospel is unsafe who dares fearlessly attack Tammany Hall, then, in the name of Almighty God, it is time the world knew it. I take occasion to warn the national Democracy that Tammany Hall is a load it cannot carry any longer. After trying to destroy the State of New York, they come sneaking back from Chicago, saying they will support the ticket. They lie. They will do in November what they have done before, and spend another four years in trying to lie out of it. If the slippery god-children of William M. Tweed believe they can intimidate the pulpit, let them take due notice that they have made a mistake.

THE RING.

Fight at Coney Island in Which Dixon, of Nova Scotia, Defeats Johnston.

CONY ISLAND, L. I., June 27.—About 5,000 persons witnessed the fight to-night at the Coney Island Athletic Club's grounds between Johnson of Birmingham, England, and George Dixon of Nova Scotia, feather-weight champion of the world. The receipts for admission aggregated about $18,000. The fight was for a purse of $5,000, of which the loser was to receive $500. The betting was $100 to $80 in favor of Dixon. The fight began at 9:45 p.m. Dixon was seconded by Tom O'Rourke, Morris Kelly of Boston, and Ed. Daley of Providence. Johnston's handlers were Charley Martin of Newark, N. J., Bill Plimber and Benny Murphy, a thoroughly English party.

Dixon in the first round opened the proceedings by rushing Johnston against the ropes, placing at the same time his left on the Englishman's stomach and his right on the jaw. Johnston was surprised at the sudden attack, and did not rally before Dixon was on top of him again in the same way. The spectators yelled boisterously at this, but Johnston recovered his senses and planted his right a couple of times on Dixon's ribs. The succeeding rounds were similar to the first, except that Johnston began to duck in front of Dixon's rushes and Dixon would catch him in the face with left-hand uppercuts. Clinch followed clinch, Dixon doing all the rushing, and the fighting was fast and furious. The excitement in the hall was terrific. Johnston, however, came up every round a thoroughly game man and showed he could take a terrible lot of punishment. He several times became groggy, but always held his feet and always came up fresh at the signal of time. The Englishman has a poor left and would always fall short, and Dixon's face was never in the way of his right. From the eighth to the twelfth round Johnston seemed to get a little stronger and Dixon tired a little. In the thirteenth Dixon made some of his effective rushes, and in the fourteenth he flew at his man, thrust his left wickedly in Johnston's stomach, and then planted his right squarely on the jaw. Johnston went down, and as he fell caught Dixon's hand and pulled the colored boy over with him. Dixon was quickly on his feet, but poor Johnston was done for. He was on his feet once, but fell, and again he got upon his knees, but finally fell over unconscious. Johnston, when he fell the first time, struck his head a terrific crack on the floor, and it is a question whether the fall or the blow defeated him. Dixon was awarded the fight, and there is no doubt that Johnston was out-matched.

FIGURES TELL THE STORY.

TO THE EDITOR.—In your interesting article of to-day, showing the cold cash taken by the Dominion Government out of this Province, and the niggardly treatment meted out in return, it will also be instructive to print the returns for the years 1890 and 1891 of the Quebec Postoffice, and those of Victoria, to show the manner in which the employees in this city are screwed down. Quebec, with a declining revenue, costs in salaries more than double what the Victoria office does with a rapid increasing revenue. The revenue of both offices being almost equal. A calm perusal of these figures will convince the most sceptical that our members are not in it, to use a vulgarism, with "Jean Baptiste."

DOCTORS USE IT IN THEIR HOMES.

THEY STRONGLY RECOMMEND IT.

OUR best physicians use Lactated Food in their families, and recommend it to their patients. No other prepared food before the mothers of Canada has had such high encomiums in its favor from the medical profession. The doctors thoroughly understand the composition of Lactated Food, and all agree that it possesses in a pre-eminent degree, every constituent of breast milk, which fact should commend it to all mothers who, from circumstances, are unable to properly nurse their babies. Babies who are fed with Lactated Food always enjoy a perfect immunity from prevailing diseases; there is no impairment of the digestive organism; they sleep well, and are always bright, happy and vivacious. Mothers run a tremendous risk, who feed the common food of the day, as they tend to promote constipation; these foods also cause irritation of the stomach, making baby cross and fretful.

When there can be no other recognition of the value of Lactated Food, than the fact of our best doctors using it for their little ones. The mother only requires to make one trial, to be convinced of its great superiority over all other foods in existence.

Heating Power of Fuel.

It is often a matter of considerable industrial importance to determine the value of different kinds of coal for steam raising purposes, but valuations deduced from the weight of water evaporated per unit of time require accurate weighings or measurements on a large scale. A writer in the Chemical News suggests a simple and at the same time accurate chemical test, which can be easily applied by any one having a little knowledge of chemistry. It is based on the fact that all waters contain a small percentage of chlorine, and that as the water is evaporated the quantity of chloride in the water necessarily increases. The estimation of the quantity of a chloride in a given water is an operation of extreme simplicity, necessitating only the use of a burette and a solution of silver nitrate of known strength. The silver nitrate solution when run in from the burette to a known volume of the water precipitates the chlorides present as silver chloride, and the least excess of silver added is shown by the red coloration which the excess of silver nitrate gives with potassium chromate. After determining the amount of chloride per gallon in the feed water and in the amount in the boiler water after some hours' run, it is not difficult to find out the number of gallons evaporated in that time.
